Council of 100

The Council of 100 is a group of vaccinology experts, chosen by the Publisher and Editor-in-Chief of VACCINE, that serves as a resource for the journal's editorial board. Duties performed by Council of 100 members include: performing rapid reviews of articles; suggesting articles covering new developments in the field; contributing articles and reviews of current topics, and serving as ambassadors for the journal. We thank each member for being an invaluable resource for the journal!

Aims and Scope

VACCINE is the pre-eminent journal for those interested in vaccines and vaccination. It serves as an interface between academics, those in research and development, and workers in the field. Relevant topics range from basic research through to applications, safety and legislation.

Key aspects include

- human vaccines – infectious diseases
- immunology/animal models
- regulation/societal/legislation
- human vaccines – non-infectious diseases
- delivery systems/vectors/adjuvants
- review articles
- veterinary vaccines
- production/manufacturing/safety
